Teacher Answer Key

Case Study

1. Forensic experts conducted DNA tests on seized tusks and horns, identifying genetic markers that pinpointed specific wildlife populations.

2. Agencies in multiple countries shared intelligence and coordinated arrests, preventing suspects from escaping and enabling simultaneous raids.

Multiple Choice

1. D

2. A

3. C

Matching

1-B, 2-C, 3-E, 4-A, 5-D

Fill-in-the-Blank

1) currents, 2) prison, 3) Satellite

Short Answer (Sample Responses)

Q1: Different agencies and local communities have unique resources and perspectives, making it easier to track violations across jurisdictions and collect comprehensive evidence.

Q2: By holding violators personally accountable with heavy financial penalties or imprisonment, the legal system sends a strong message that harming the environment can have serious consequences.

Q3: Nonprofits and local communities often observe irregularities, collect initial evidence, and bring media attention, ensuring issues are escalated to authorities promptly.