Teacher Answer Key

Case Study

1. Proponents argue drilling creates jobs, boosts state revenue, and can reduce dependence on foreign oil.

2. Indigenous groups rely on caribou herds and other wildlife for subsistence, and they fear disruption to migration patterns and threats to cultural practices.

Multiple Choice

1. C

2. B

3. A

Matching

1-C, 2-E, 3-B, 4-A, 5-D

Fill-in-the-Blank

1) Traditional, 2) federal, 3) supremacy

Short Answer (Sample Responses)

Q1: They may view it as a means to revitalize local economies, fund public services, and create jobs, especially in regions with few other economic opportunities.

Q2: Indigenous knowledge often encompasses long-term observations of local ecosystems, leading to management strategies that are more sustainable and culturally respectful.

Q3: Climate change intensifies debates because burning fossil fuels from public lands contributes to global greenhouse gas emissions, conflicting with efforts to mitigate warming trends.