Teacher Answer Key

Case Study

1. Myth: "You'd know by symptoms/appearance." Jordan explains many infections are asymptomatic, so testing and communication matter.

2. Avoided: "If you loved me, you would." Used: "What are you comfortable with?" / "I care about you—that's why I'm asking."

Multiple Choice

Fill-in-the-Blank

1) asymptomatic, 2) barrier, 3) protection

Short Answer (Sample Responses)

Q1: Many infections show no symptoms, so someone can look healthy and still carry an STI; testing is the only reliable way to know.

Q2: Vaccines can prevent certain infections before exposure, reducing risk without relying on in-the-moment decisions.

Q3: Example: "I care about both of us—can we talk about protection and what we're comfortable with?"
