Teacher Answer Key

Case Study

1. • Rural hospitals offer sign-on bonuses and other incentives to make up for less "glamorous" urban career draws.

2. • Students see the potential for higher wages, prompting them to enroll in programs targeting rural healthcare needs.

Multiple Choice

1. D

2. B

3. C

Matching

1-C, 2-A, 3-B, 4-E, 5-D

Fill-in-the-Blank

1) Education, 2) Up, 3) Cost of living

Short Answer (Sample Responses)

Q1: If a new job type is in high demand but lacks sufficient qualified workers, employers might raise wages to attract individuals with relevant skills.

Q2: Additional pay compensates employees for increased risks or hazards, making the position more appealing despite potential dangers.

Q3: Unions can negotiate better pay scales and benefits, raising overall compensation levels and standardizing earnings in the industry.